Rep. Mike Gallagher Tours Fairbanks Morse Engine Manufacturing

Beloit, WI (August 25, 2017) – Fairbanks Morse, an EnPro Industries company (NYSE: NPO), was very pleased to host the U.S. Representative for Wisconsin’s 8th District, Rep. Mike Gallagher, on the morning of Wednesday August 23rd. The purpose of his visit was to meet with Fairbanks Morse leadership and tour the manufacturing facility that provides the medium-speed diesel engines to the LCS Freedom class ships, made in his district at Fincantieri Marinette Marine. Fairbanks Morse is the primary supplier to the U.S. Navy for medium-speed diesel engines, and Congressman Gallagher serves on the House Armed Services Committee, Seapower Subcommittee. The Congressman’s tour included a briefing on the company’s strategy for growth, current power system production and an update on research and development of the new Trident OP™ (opposed-piston) engine, being unveiled at Power-Gen International in December.

During his tour, Rep. Gallagher met with the employees at Fairbanks Morse to discuss the unique skills they contribute to the critical US defense industrial base. Fairbanks Morse supplies parts, products and services that are essential to the missions of the U. S. Armed Forces, as well as many stationary power applications.

“The hardworking men and women at Fairbanks Morse are a part of a proud tradition and play a critical role in our nation’s security by providing a world-class engine to our Littoral Combat Ship in Marinette,” said Rep. Mike Gallagher. “As a member of the House Armed Services Committee, I look forward to working with Fairbanks Morse to ensure our Armed Forces have exactly what they need to deter threats, support our allies, and above all, keep the American people safe.”

“It was an honor to host Rep. Mike Gallagher at Fairbanks Morse and share the importance of the U. S. Navy to Fairbanks Morse, as well as the importance of Fairbanks Morse to U.S. Navy. The Government contracts that enable a high-skilled workforce additionally provide well-paying jobs to hundreds of people here in Beloit, WI, in addition to the many thousands employed by our suppliers. We are very grateful to have the Congressman providing strong support for these US jobs.” said Paul Roden, Vice President of Washington Operations at Fairbanks Morse. “The men and women at Fairbanks Morse are very proud of our role in building critically reliable and powerful power systems.”
